Nation Is Again Facing Threat Of Spring Coal Strike

Soft Coal Operators Study Veiled Warning From John L. Lewis

PENSION DEMANDS STRESSED BY LEWIS

By PHILIPS J. PECK
(U. N. S. Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, March 13.—The nation was beset again today by its annual spring coal crisis. Soft coal operators studied a veiled warning from John L. Lewis that his 400,000 bituminous miners may not be "willing and able" to work much longer unless their pension demands are granted. Just back from a Florida vacation, the United Mine Workers president called a news conference to discuss the dispute which has plagued the industry for many months.

Seeking Pensions

Lewis is seeking a $100-a-month pension for miners aged 60 with 20 years service, to be financed from the 10-cent-a-ton coal royalty being paid to the miners' welfare fund. The fund now contains $29,494,000. The union leader said the current coal contract calls for establishment of a pension, but that the mine operators have refused to agree to his proposal or make a counter offer. He made public a circular letter to the UMW membership. It said: "The winter is now gone. This office proposes to go forward in requiring the coal operators to honor their agreement. Your ears will soon be assailed by their outcries and wails of anguish. "Please discuss this matter in your local unions so that our membership may be fully advised. You will later hear more from this office on this subject."

Pa New Observes

A large tractor-trailer truck traveling through the city bore two sections of a bridge that was evidently dismantled somewhere East of the city. The parts may have come from the old Wabash bridge that is being torn down in Pittsburgh.

Numerous sunrise Easter services have been planned in the city for two weeks from tomorrow, Pa. New is informed. Most of the services will be conducted by individual churches instead of union meetings. Ellwood City is planning for a giant union sunrise service on Easter morning.

Friday's warm afternoon sunshine melted quite a bit of the heavy snowfall that the city and county experienced on Thursday. Streams of water flowed on all hills of the city into the sewers. A pleasant weekend should be in the offing for local residents who have the ven to jump in the car and take a long trip into the rural area.

Now that robin red-breast is here, and the snow covering the ground again, Owen Fox asks that folks endeavor to be kind to these birds. With some of that nice weather in February, robins decided to come up here from a more southern location, and have been caught in this cold snap. One lady states that a robin appeared on her porch, and waited while she opened the door, and threw it some crumbs. The bird was probably quite hungry. This summer these birds will repay us by ridding our gardens of many injurious pests.

Partial Poll Indicates Senate Near Two Thirds Vote On Tax Reduction

By FELIX COTTEN
(U. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, March 13.—A partial poll indicated today that 62 of the 96 senators are ready now to vote for the 4.7 billion dollar tax-cut bill approved by the Senate Finance Committee, with a number of others undecided. This would be two less than the two-thirds majority necessary to override a veto by President Truman if the entire senate membership should vote.

Thirteen Democratic senators either openly voiced their determination to vote for the finance committee bill or indicated that they were inclined to support it. Forty-nine of the 51 Republican senators are expected to vote for the bill.

Ban Heavy Trucks On Many Roadways

HARRISBURG, March 13.—(INS)—Vehicles weighing more than 10 tons have been banned from many secondary state roads, it was announced today by Warren K. Meyers, chief highways maintenance engineer.

He said the action was taken to prevent further frost damage. The routes were not identified. There may be extended to northern tier counties should frost conditions develop, Meyers added.

No main traffic routes were affected by the order. Meyers said the present thaw has caused considerable damage to roads in the bituminous coal area because of heavy loads using those routes.

Indicate Peron Has Been Renamed Argentina Head

BUENOS AIRES, March 13.—(INS)—Partial returns from Sunday's national elections in Argentina indicate today a sweeping victory for President Juan D. Peron. Political circles immediately predicted that an amendment will soon be introduced permitting Peron to campaign for re-election in 1952.

Tirade Against Western Powers Marks Funeral

Communist Premier Gottwald Assails Western Nations At Masaryk's Funeral

PROCESSION SEEN BY HUGE CROWDS

By KINGSBURY SMITH
(European General Manager U. N. S.)

PRAGUE, March 13.—Funeral services for Jan Masaryk were turned by Communist Premier Klement Gottwald into the occasion for a bitter political tirade against the western powers today. In a funeral oration delivered over Masaryk's body, Gottwald charged that it was western attacks on him that drove the non-partisan foreign minister to leap from the window of his apartment to his death.

Hurtis His Charges
Gottwald hurled his charges into the still, solemn atmosphere of the pantheon in the Czech National Museum, before a hushed, mournful audience of the nation's leaders and the international diplomatic corps.

Ambassadors of the western nations heard his attack in silence. Gottwald claimed that Masaryk fully supported the new government's "action program."

The Communist premier asserted: "I can testify that Jan Masaryk did what he thought best. I can testify that he stood apart in moments of crisis from people who were plotting."

"The proof of this is that he did not resign with the others but remained with the government. I can testify he spoke instantaneously and without hesitation for participation in the government."

Special Train Bring Crowds
Seven special trains brought thousands into the city for the rites. Crowds lined both sides of the street.

Meat Industry Strike Threatens

CHICAGO, March 13.—(INS)—Shipments to the nation's livestock markets dropped off today with the approach of a strike by 100,000 packinghouse workers.

The strike is set for 12:02 a. m. Tuesday. Officials of the meat industry and the CIO-United Packinghouse Workers Union will resume negotiations Monday after a week-end recess.

Union officials said the negotiations were "getting no place." They are demanding a 29-cent-an-hour pay increase, which has indicated in negotiations they would take 19 cents.

The Packers have offered 9 cents which has been accepted by an AFL Meat Cutters Union.

Flow of meat on the hoof to the South St. Paul market has stopped. Although no such order has gone out from the nine other leading markets, commission men have advised shippers to reduce their farm-to-market supplies.

Princess Elizabeth Rumored 'Expecting'

LONDON, March 13.—(INS)—London circles buzzed again today with rumors that Princess Elizabeth is expecting a baby.

The discussion was renewed after an announcement that she and her husband, Prince Philip, would not accompany the king and queen on a scheduled trip to Australia.

Information from Buckingham palace said that Elizabeth has a "moderate number of public engagements up to the end of June, after which she "is expected to take things quietly."

Offers Reward For Missing Plane With Two Persons Aboard

HARRISBURG, March 13.—(INS)—The Pennsylvania Aeronautics Commission today published notice of a $500 reward for the discovery of a light airplane, which disappeared February 28 while en route from Richmond, Va. to Geneva, N. Y. with a pilot and one passenger.

Commission officials said Mrs. Herbert R. Fink, of Geneva, offered the reward to the finder of the Piper Cub airplane which her son, Herbert I. Fink was flying. The passenger was identified as Ellis Storr.

Bad weather was believed to have forced the plane off its course.

Report Large Breadlines Form Daily In Moscow

(BULLETIN)
LONDON, March 13.—(INS)—Unprecedented breadlines have been forming daily in Moscow since last Sunday due to a severe shortage, according to authoritative reports received in London today through diplomatic channels.

The breadlines reached such proportions that on some days they amounted to a line one block long and twenty-three persons abreast, the reports state.

Editor's Note: No mention has been made thus far in any press dispatches received from Moscow about the breadline situation but it was pointed out that rigid censorship in Russia would prevent such information from being sent out by correspondents unless and

Start Search For Plane Carrying Thirty Persons

LEFT ANCHORAGE, ALASKA EARLY TODAY (BULLETIN)

ST. PAUL, Minn., March 13.—(INS)—Northwest Airlines reported today that one of its DC-4 planes carrying 24 passengers and a crew of six persons is overdue at Edmonton, Alberta.

The plane is flying an unscheduled flight from Shanghai to New York, the airline stated, and its passengers are members of an American oil tanker crew.

The four-motored plane, which was en route to New York, took off from Anchorage, Alaska, at 12:12 a. m. (CST) today.

Its last radio report was recorded at Edmonton at 1:03 a. m. when the pilot reported the ship was over Gulkana, Alaska, and all was well. Gulkana is approximately 170 miles east of Anchorage.

The plane was due at Edmonton airport at 7 a. m. (CST).

Fail To Locate Plane

When hours passed and no further report was received from the transport plane, an army ship based at Anchorage made a pre-dawn search but failed to locate the DC-4.

At dawn today, Northwest Airlines reported, two planes, one an army ship and one belonging to the civil aeronautics authority, set out in search of a trace of the transport.

The overdue plane left Shanghai, China, at 10 p. m. Thursday. The passengers aboard were being returned to New York by air after having delivered an oil tanker from the United States to the Orient. The airline pointed out that this has been a regular way in which the ship crew has been transported and have been returned to the United States on unscheduled flights.

Composer Romberg Visits President

WASHINGTON, March 13.—(INS)—Composer Sigmund Romberg today classified President Truman and himself as lovers of "middle brow" music.

Romberg, who called at the White House to give the chief executive and his family tickets to a concert on May 11, afterwards declared his opinion of the president's musical taste.

"We talked about 'middle brow' music—neither 'high brow' nor 'low brow' music, but the kind that people in general like."

"That is the kind of music I like and the President likes, too," Romberg reported that he found the President looking fine, and added: "As a good Democrat that pleased me very much."

Maj. Gen. Meyers Is Found Guilty

Jury Convicts Him Of Charge Of Inducing Witness To Lie At Investigation

SENTENCE LIKELY TO COME MONDAY

By CHARLES B. SEIB
(U. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, March 13.—Maj. Gen. Bennett Meyers, once deputy chief of army air forces procurement, was a convicted criminal today, awaiting a sentence which may send him to prison for the next 30 years.

Meyers, found guilty of inducing a witness to lie before senate investigators, must wait until Monday to learn his fate. Judge Alexander Holtzoff has ruled he will sentence him at that time; meanwhile, he is free on bail.

Pushing Plans For Appeal
Even before the sentencing, the retired general's lawyers are pushing plans for an appeal of the jury's verdict of "guilty." They are expected to charge prejudice on the part of Judge Holtzoff and to challenge the legality of the senate subcommittee which first delved into Meyers' wartime career.

The jury of ten men and two women returned the conviction Friday after deliberating two hours and 30 minutes. It found that Meyers persuaded Blieriot Lamarre to lie on three important points in order to hide Meyers' "kickbacks" from the Aviation Electric Corp. of Dayton, O., a war subcontract firm.

Admitted Lies
Lamarre has admitted the lies and declared on the witness stand that it was Meyers who persuaded him to tell them. He is facing sentence for perjury.

Once Meyers' friend and "dummy president" of Aviation Electric, Lamarre denounced the retired general and said $150,000 of the company's profits went into his pockets. He charged flatly that Meyers was "the boss" of the whole operation.

The usually jaunty Meyers stood solemnly, shoulders drooping, as the jury foreman—an undertaker—droned "guilty," "guilty," "guilty" when queried on the three counts of the indictment.

A few days away his attractive blonde wife fought to hold back tears.

Meyers perked up a few minutes later, apparently confident in his lawyers' ability to secure a reversal of the verdict. But his wife was so shaken she was unable to speak. She had only a mute shake of the head for reporters' questions.

Expect Senate To Act On Measure At Day's Session

Forecast Vote Will Show Decisive Majority In Favor Of Bill

SENATE REJECTS MOVE TO CUT FUND

By WILLIAM THEIS
(U. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, March 13.—Supporters of the Marshall plan promised to push it through the Senate today by a whopping majority bigger than their 25-vote defeat of the Taft dollar reduction amendment.

Acting Majority Leader Wherry (R) Neb. said it was "all over" except for amendments acceptable to Sen. Vandenberg (R) Mich., who in an 11-hour day and night session successfully blocked all attacks on the European Recovery Bill.

Amendment Rejected
The proposed one billion 300 million dollar slash, offered by Sen. Taft (R) Ohio, was rejected by a 56 to 31 vote just before the senate recessed at 11:03 p. m. last night.

Senators on both sides of the fight said they would press for a final senate vote today. Taft himself called for adjournment.

Sen. Connally (D) Tex., ranking minority member of Vandenberg's Foreign Relations Committee, forecast that the 53 billion dollar bill will pass by "a bigger vote" than that mustered against the Taft amendment.

Wherry conceded that the GOP revisionist group, locked on the Taft cut, would probably produce only 18 or 20 votes for a remaining amendment calling for a veto-proof international council to combat aggression with armed force.

This drastic departure from the ERP formula, sponsored by Sen. Ball (R) Minn., has been branded by Vandenberg as a procedure which could "vote us into war" without American consent.

Sen. Bridges (R) N. H., chairman of the Appropriations Committee, forecast for the full 53 billion dollar figure but served notice that his group would "study, examine and scrutinize" all items in the ERP (Continued on Page Two)

Arthur Mometer

Tush, tush Mister Winter, go roll your hoop, or peddle your stuff elsewhere, say Labrador or the Arctic capes, the exact spot I do not care. Don't whosh around in a bluserty way, you must realize you're through, so get right along with your snow and ice, till the peak of next winter is new. I know there's snow, but a-day or so, and the snow and ice will be gone, for coming along like a welcome son, the force of our friend the sun. So get going, winter, don't tarry long, as Superman say, "and away" we're ready for spring as you probably know, it's 28 today.

Nation's Oldest Postal Employee Is Now Retired

PHILADELPHIA, March 13.—(INS)—Harry A. Patterson, a postal clerk, has seen that mothers received letters sent from their sons sailing into Manila bay—with Admiral Halsey in World War II and Admiral Dewey in the Spanish-American war.

Patterson retired reluctantly recently, for the little man wasn't sure he would like a life of ease after 51 years.

Believed the oldest employee in the United States, he served under 10 postmasters. He started at the old central post office at Ninth and Market streets and watched a huge modern post office rise at 30th street with a landing strip for helicopter service.

Patterson's boss, Harry J. Piper, said "I'd use him for 10 years if he could stay, but the law says he must retire at 70". So Harry is going home to stay, to his wife Elizabeth who is a "wonderful cook".

Finds 400 Year Old Carvings

EDGEMONT, S. D.—A South Dakota historian claims to have irrefutable proof that the Spanish monk, Friar Marcos de Niza, came through the Black Hills 400 years ago—and carved the 23rd psalm in Craven Canyon, near here.

The historian, Frank Baker, said he found the carvings on some "red rock near the Cheyenne River."

He added:

"No history books have ever told about the Old World persons who were the first visitors to the Black Hills."

Found Some Carvings

"But I have found some carvings that are still recognized and are positive proof that the Spanish friar traveled through here with Francisco Vasquez de Coronado."

Baker believes the Spaniards were searching the Black Hills for the fabled "Seven Lost Cities" in the land of Cibola. The Aztecs were supposed to have told the Spaniards about these cities of treasure.

Brands Sewers As 'Rivers Of Death'

CHICAGO (INS)—A Chicago safety expert says America's sewers are "rivers of death."

John J. Ahern of the Illinois Institute of Technology, warns that "unless extreme care is given to sewer connections, we invite not only disease, but disastrous explosions."

Ten Million Gallons

Ahern estimated that ten million gallons of gasoline normally are stored beneath a city of a half-million population. He said leaks occur and gas flows into the sewage canals.

Ice Cream Proves More Palatable

ITHACA (INS)—Americans consumed three times as much ice cream during World War II as they did during World War I, says Prof. A. C. Dahlberg of the Cornell University Dairy Department. He also added that postwar gains of ice cream consumption have been striking.

Dahlberg said the increased sales could be attributed to: better manufacturing methods; use of better quality ingredients such as dairy products, fruits, nuts, and flavoring extracts; a more extensive merchandising and advertising program; and advancements in nutrition knowledge explaining that ice cream is wholesome and nutritious.

Dahlberg advised manufacturers to create ice cream with more "taste appeal." He recommended that the flavor tests be made by consumers rather than by expert ice cream testers.

Scout Sees Double: She's Hunting Twins

CHICAGO (INS)—Seeing double is a profession with Miss Coralie Shaefer—she's a twin talent scout.

Hunting for beautiful and identical sisters to pose in comparison advertisements for the Toni Company, home permanent wave manufacturer, Miss Shaefer travels from coast to coast in her unusual search.

It's not so easy, says Miss Shaefer, because the sister's must be young, beautiful, identical, and possess hair and faces easily photographed.

The scout found sixteen sets of identical twins last year, and is now hunting thirty more pairs. She hunted the lucky girls last year in department stores, college dormitories, airplanes, on trains, in swimming pools, schools, and in hundreds of other places.

Some Criticism

A number of Democrats criticized the Finance Committee Bill. Some said the proposed tax cut was too large in view of the budget situation. Others protested that the $100 increase in the personal income tax exemption was insufficient for low-income taxpayers.

Sen. Robertson (D) Va., declared that finance committee estimates of government revenue on which the tax cut is based were too high.

He said:

"It is wishful thinking to assume that the days of the present boom are not numbered, and wishful thinking is not a sound basis on which to predicate tax revenue."

Democratic senators plan to hold a party caucus Monday on the tax-cut question. They are expected to rally overwhelmingly behind a substitute plan which would hold the tax cut to four billion dollars.

NATION IS AGAIN FACING THREAT OF SPRING COAL STRIKE

ed to back up his pension demand by a strike, Lewis replied:

"That is a hypothetical question, but the contract says it is effective as long as the miners are willing and able to work. They have been willing for eight months."

"They are now asking how long—how long will our rights be denied us?"

Lewis said he didn't know whether his letter would affect the willingness of the miners to work or how much time the local unions would need to discuss the pension dispute. He added:

"I've seen the men when they didn't want to talk at all."

The UMW chief charged that the coal operators were being "pressured" by other industries not to agree to a pension lest it set a precedent. He termed this "a heartless position," adding:

Toll Is Heavy

"I know of no other industry that exacts the toll of mining. A total of 64,165 miners were killed and injured last year. The miners urgently need full operation of their welfare fund."

The old welfare fund set up during government operation of the mines in 1946 still has $14,906,000. But Lewis said this is being rapidly exhausted in $1,000 death benefits and distress payments to miners.

He asserted that the fund could not be "activated" and expenditures made until the pension plan was set up. Lewis ridicules as "fantastic and untrue" estimates that this proposal would require a royalty of 40 cents a ton on coal.

The union president said social security experts had estimated that only $10,000,000 to $15,000,000 would be paid out the first year. He admitted future costs were hard to figure, but declared the fund is "not liable to pay a pension beyond its income." The mine boss concluded:

"We hope the American people will decide the mine workers are entitled to the conditions and privileges written in the bond (the present contract). We have the bond. We want the use of the funds."

"The coal operators have seized on the veto power of the Taft slave bill to try to disembowel the miners' welfare fund."

A newly developed "midget" dental X-ray tube was operated steadily in Westinghouse laboratories for 1,000 hours—the equivalent to two decades of normal usage in a dentist's office.

U.N. FACING GREATEST CRISIS IN CHILE'S MOVE FOR PROBE OF COUP

that hesitation by the major western powers to take the ball right from start would cast a blight on U. N. prestige and in particular raise a storm of criticism against the United States for failure to condemn the communist grab of power in Czechoslovakia.

Backing Appears

Powerful backing for Chile in the council already has appeared. It is understood that Colombia, a member of the 11-nation body, has agreed to sponsor formal charges against Russia.

In the line-up also is understood to be Brazil, which is not a council member but swings heavy influence in United Nations circles. The Argentine can be counted on to stand for inclusion of the Chilean charge on the council's agenda—and Argentina is a member of the council. The United States, Britain, France and others for the time being are silent. A number of council members are generally expected to swing whichever way the United States goes.

Hectic Conferences

On that basis, it may be assumed that the week-end will experience hectic amount of conferring between the United Nations delegations and their home governments on the Chilean bombshell.

T. F. Tsiang, chairman of the security council, has set the first round on the issue for Wednesday at 2:30 p. m. The initial session will concern itself with the question of whether or not to place the complaint on the council agenda.

U. N. observers here point out that Soviet Delegate Andrei Gromyko probably will make that first round his major battle against the Chilean move. It is expected that if the council places the issue on the agenda, he will walk out. A majority of seven votes will do the trick, and since it is a procedural matter, cannot be vetoed.

Nutritious sandwiches to put into a lunchbox may be made from peanut butter, cheese, egg, baked beans, fish or meat. Adding a layer of chopped cabbage, shredded carrot or diced green pepper plus mayonnaise or salad dressing will make the sandwiches taste better.

Many fishes that live on the floor of the ocean have eyes that look upward only, since there is no need to see in other directions.

St. Wenceslas Square 10 deep for a length of five blocks.

Security police stood three feet apart in front of the crowd while immediately behind them were Boy Scouts and blue-shirted members of the Czechoslovak Youth Front.

The funeral services started at the pantheon a few moments after 2 p. m. (2 a. m. EST).

President Eduard Benes and his wife entered the pantheon with Gottwald. The mourners inside stood sadly before the coffin while trumpets in the streets played a solemn medieval fanfare which echoed through loudspeakers.

Following Gottwald's speech a children's choir sang the favorite song of Masaryk's father, called "Oh Son, Are You at Home?"

Huge Crowd Sees Procession

Thousands gathered in historic St. Wenceslas Square to witness the state funeral and procession in honor of the late foreign minister.

Reports from all parts of the country showed that the man who sacrificed his life to uphold the principles of democratic freedom for which his father founded the republic is assuming the role of a political saint in the heart and soul of his people.

Through an unusual twist of fate, Masaryk is being mourned as the Czechoslovakian hero of the day by both the Communists and the Democrats.

Non-Communists are paying reverent homage to him in the conviction that he took his own life in protest against the ruthless reign of terror Communists have imposed on his country.

As a result of the government's clever propaganda, the Communist masters of Czechoslovakia are acclaiming him one of their own. They say he was driven to suicide by western attacks on himself and his country.

Both sides consider him a martyr to their respective causes.

Fred Ullrich has arranged to have Mr. C. D. Sanderson, Pillsbury Mills, Inc., tell all. Maybe he will tell us why 300,000,000 loaves of bread were either eaten by animals, burned up or thrown away. This is a lot of bread—enough to provide each of the 7,336,000 inhabitants of Greece with a pound a week for nearly a year. And we are asked to save a slice a day.

program before voting the actual funds for its first year of operation.

He deliberately sought and received Vandenberg's assurance that his committee had every right to revise the amount of aid without exposure to "criticism" by the measure's sponsor or "propaganda and pressure" from administration agencies. Vandenberg told him:

Needs Scrutiny

"There never can be too much scrutiny put at every step in the evolution of this almost completely speculative operation. The committee has not only a freedom to act but a responsibility to act."

The senate president nevertheless reiterated his personal conviction that the first-year appropriation should be $3 billion dollars, as recommended unanimously by the Foreign Relations members.

Senate Minority Leader Barkley (D) Ky. called the vote on the Taft amendment "very significant." Taft himself was expected to support the final figure although he strongly urged the senate to cut the authorization to an even four billion dollars.

Eight Democrats and 23 Republicans voted for the cut. Twenty-four Republicans and 32 Democrats supported the larger Vandenberg figure.

In View Of News Of The World

By J. C. Oestreicher, INS Foreign Director

Ever since Soviet Russia embarked upon her campaign of communizing Europe at the price of freedom and liberty, diplomats and commentators the world over have cast around for some really appropriate definition of the Kremlin's policy.

It has been called everything short of outright armed aggression and treated to some of the choicest epithets in the range of modern vocabularies.

But it remained for the dignified, thoughtful magazine the London Economist to define the policy in words that the scholarly Anthony Eden praised highly in the House of Commons.

By Remote Control

The economist called it: "Armed intervention by remote control and with limited liability to themselves."

Eden told the House that he thought the economist's wording "about accurately describes" current Soviet practices and observers remarked that little had been said in the past about the Russians' "limited liability" in the matter.

Many persons have been quick to draw an exact parallel between Soviet expansion and that of Adolf Hitler.

But this overlooks the salient angle that Hitler never made any secret of the fact that he was ready, willing and even eager to go to war for what he wanted.

True enough, Hitler sometimes spoke of peace with France and Britain.

But the next day or week he would be threatening some neighboring country with a "blitz" attack. He either was too impatient or too crude to be satisfied with mere infiltration which might have achieved his purposes without the tremendously crushing "liabilities" of war.

When he first began to voice his ambitions for Czechoslovakia and Poland, Hitler coined a phrase that as the months went by assumed an even more menacing tone.

Looking At Life

By Erich Brandeis

A number of readers have written recently and asked for my opinion about the future of the United Nations.

"Will the United Nations be another League of Nations?" That is what they ask. "What good is the United Nations when it can't enforce any of its decisions?"

Where I a political columnist or a radio commentator I would have the answer all ready for you.

But being just an ordinary fellow and depending entirely on my common sense and the few things I have learned in school and by experience, all I can say is: "I don't know, but it doesn't look good to me."

Virginia May Go Republican

WASHINGTON, March 13.—Virginia is one of the most beautiful states in the union. Next month the dogwood will come one, and the Virginia bluebells and garden week will draw tourists from all over to view the stately homes and generous gardens of the past.

Walking between the rows of fragrant boxwood, driving through the green and rolling country, the visitor will have a feeling that he is in a museum. And he will be right.

The past is well preserved in Virginia. That goes for the political as well as the architectural past. The homes of the great men who founded this republic have been tenderly restored and protected.

But the creative force of the ideas they gave to the world, the stir and the spark of their creative imagination, is also kept behind glass—carefully locked and only a little dry with age.

Democracy in Virginia is in the custody of a few men who are prepared to tell the people what they can and cannot do. The most remarkable example in recent times was the proposal put up to the legislature by Gov. William M. Tucker.

Under that proposal, the voters of Virginia would not vote for a man for president. When they put their X in the Democratic column, as the majority of Virginians traditionally do, they would be handing the right of choice to the state Democratic organization. The party organization, in a state convention, Gov. Tucker's proposal was not well received. Its crudity stirred wide indignation. Many newspapers in Virginia were critical. Sen. Byrd let it be known that he had not seen the Tucker proposal before it was put to the legislature.

A compromise has been advanced which is likely to be adopted. Under the compromise, the label of the "Democratic party" will be reserved for the state organization. But by obtaining a thousand signatures to petitions, the Truman Democrats can also get on the ballot. They will, however, have to use another tag, such as "National Democrats."

This means that Virginia voters would have a choice between Sen. Byrd and President Truman. But inasmuch as only a thousand signatures are necessary to put a candidate on the ballot, they will undoubtedly also have a chance to vote for Henry Wallace. As in other years, the name of the Republican candidate will also be on the ballot.

This is an extraordinary advance in Democracy. As a result, Virginia is likely to go Republican in November. That is the guess of some observers who, it should be said, are not admirers of the Byrd machine. Many Virginia Democrats are resentful of the tactics of the machine. Therefore they will not vote for Sen. Byrd. But because of the antagonism stirred by the president's civil-rights program, they will vote for a Republican rather than for Mr. Truman, particularly if the Republicans vote a strong candidate such as Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg of Michigan.

Herbert Hoover carried Virginia in 1928 by 24,463 votes. Four years ago, when sentiment against Roosevelt and a fourth term was running high, the Republicans got 145,000 votes to 242,000 for the Democrats. While the Wallace vote in Virginia is likely to be small, concentrated in the area around Washington where New Deal contamination is high, it could count in a close election.

This kind of political calculation does not have the sound of the generous past. The spirit of that great Virginian, Thomas Jefferson, must at times be a little troubled. It might be nice to keep Virginia as a museum, beautiful, intact, untouchable. But that is hardly possible with the winds of change that are blowing across the world today. As Jefferson knew so well, history never stands still.

Great Game Of Politics

By FRANK R. KENT

(Copyright 1947, By The Baltimore Sun)

President Has Lost Ground

WASHINGTON, March 13.—In the last few days the shape of things politically in both parties has changed very much—so much, in fact, as to leave a number of our most eminent journalistic and political forecasters, prophets and prognosticators looking rather foolish. That is, they would look foolish if anyone checked up on them—which very few do.

For example, there were the "authoritative" predictions concerning Mr. Truman. Dismayed by the situation, it was declared the President was on the point of withdrawing as a candidate to succeed himself. If he did not do so immediately, it was asserted, important "party satraps" intended to tell him personally in "no uncertain terms" that for the good of the party, the country and himself he must step aside; that unless he did so, the National Committee heads would resign; that other disagreeable, not to say disastrous, things would happen to him.

THE quiet Truman statement of his candidacy at least has affected a return to the realities. Chief of these, of course, is that there never was any alternative to Mr. Truman's nomination. For better or for worse, the Democratic party is stuck with him. Both he and it will have to make the best of that. All of which has been plain from the start. For the President to have withdrawn voluntarily or under pressure, not only would have been a craven act but an admission of Democratic Administration failure so complete as to make winning impossible.

CONCEDEDLY, Mr. Truman has many deficiencies but he cannot be coerced and he does not lack courage. His present position is the only one a decent man who values his self-respect could take. Any other would have made things worse all around, because there literally is just no one to whom the so-called "satraps" could have turned. The Eisenhower suggestion was patently absurd, and a review of the Democratic governors, Democratic senators, Democratic Cabinet and Administrations fields reveals no available man. Nor in the field of private enterprise is there any figure equipped with the following, the record and the personality essential to the job.

UNDENIABLY, Mr. Truman has lost much political ground in the last month. However, it seems timely to recall to the loud-mouthed gentry who still want to sweep him up in the corner and strike a match, that right after the Republicans gained control of Congress in 1946, his prestige and popularity were fully as low as today. At that time a Democratic senator, with considerable journalistic and political support, vociferously demanded that he resign. Yet, in six months Mr. Truman had rebounded to a point where he was running ahead of all presidential aspirants in the popularity polls and the sponsors of the retirement idea appeared extremely silly. Probably this will not happen again, but clearly it is a possibility. In politics, as in baseball and bridge, the rule is always play for the error. In the next nine months there is plenty of room for quite a lot of Republican errors.

IT is true that disintegration of the combination that supported Mr. Roosevelt three times seems well advanced. That is not altogether Mr. Truman's fault. It was unavoidable because it was an incongruous, illogical and utterly unprincipled combination, put together by slick and unscrupulous men. It worked wonderfully in one campaign but it would not have worked in 1940 or 1944 save for the war. It is falling apart now, though Mr. Truman (mistakenly, many think) has appealed to its constituent parts on the same policies and along the same lines as his predecessor. Organized labor is lukewarm. The Northern Negroes are no longer a unit. The conservative South has really rebelled; the Communists and radical groups are with Mr. Wallace. Mr. Truman has not held them together but there is not the slightest basis for the belief that any other man in his position could have done better.

ONCE the country got over its Roosevelt infatuation and the unrestrained use of the public funds and Federal patronage as cement to keep this combination together was ended, it was inevitable that the combination should crumble and inevitable that the Democratic party should suffer. The idea that the combination could be continued indefinitely was never seriously entertained by the more practical men who helped form it. Any calm review of the facts compels the conclusion that it was Mr. Roosevelt who really wrecked the party, not Mr. Truman. If the latter is defeated, certainly there will be nothing disgraceful nor discreditable about it. A consoling thought is here offered. More often than not in our history the better man has been beaten for the presidency and some of the best very badly beaten. There are many worse things.

The World and the Mud Puddles

THEY DON'T KNOW

It is difficult for an intelligent citizen of the United States to understand why Communism receives so much support in Europe.

The Soviet military forces were able to eventually defeat the German armies. The Soviets, of course, were assisted mainly by the armies of the United States and Great Britain, and through some shenanigans the Russian armies were permitted to march into the city of Berlin victorious. In that march of the Russians from Stalingrad to Berlin, the Russians retook all the territory of Austria, Hungary, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Yugoslavia and Rumania, and the little nations along the Baltic Sea. These European nations had been first overrun by the German armies. None of them were anxious to end the fight, but the great mass of these middle-European nations were led to believe that the Russians had saved them from a worse fate—that of falling into the hands of Hitler and his hordes and remaining to be governed by the Hitlerites.

Blossom Out As Republics. None of these nations prior to 1918 had known any other kind of a government but that of an absolute ruler, and yet in 1918, following the treaties made after the close of World War I, they all blossomed out as Republics. Practically none of them knew anything about a Republic. They knew nothing about real freedom of the press.

press, freedom of speech, freedom of religion and absolutely nothing about a Constitution, such as that possessed by ourselves. Prior to 1914, when World War I broke out, the citizens of the United States could travel most anywhere without passport, but the citizens of the various European governments had to have a passport in order to pass from one nation to another.

Will Make Little Difference
Now, whether we adopt the Marshall Plan for assisting the peoples of Europe to get back on their feet, or whether we do not, it will make little difference, I believe, in what sort of government the middle Europeans will have. They know practically nothing except an absolute ruler and the most natural ruler for them just now is Uncle Joe rather than Uncle Sam. So it ought not to be very surprising to Americans to observe what has happened in Czechoslovakia. The Communist Party was the natural party to which the Czechoslovaks have adhered.

Hitler was right. It will be remembered what he said and it was quoted in the press of the United States while we were assisting the Soviets so materially: "If the Soviets win in Europe they will impose a more autocratic government than Germany would impose in the event of Germany winning the war. Europe will just be out of the frying pan into the fire."

Hitler came very close to the truth.

NEW WILMINGTON, March 13.—Tall, handsome Donald Hartman, of Chambersburg, Pa., and a vivacious brunet, Audrey Brua of Volant, Pa., are the choices of their classmates at Westminster college for the honor of "Ideal Freshmen". Six co-eds and six men were nominated at a primary election with Hartman and Miss Brua winning in the general election. By JOHN TODD HOLLYWOOD, March 13.—(INS)—The hottest actor in Hollywood today is a guy named Jay C. Flippen.

His normal expression is what casting directors call "a dirty look." In repose he resembles a fellow who has just been nabbed red-handed blowing a safe.

Because he bent his smile into a sneer he will become one of the great screen meanies of all time before next Christmas.

Comedian Many Years
For 40 years Flippen has been one of the country's funniest comedians. That flip of the lip suddenly made him a movie villain of the deepest dye.

Flippen whose best feature is a battered face, said today: "All my life I've been mistaken for an ex-con, but the only stretch I've served was in burlesque."

The late Mark Hellinger, in a moment of whimsy, gave him his first screen break. Flip shaved his skull, practiced snarling and wound up as a convict in "Brute Force."

I took to blackface in Chicago and tried it out on an agent. He press, freedom of speech, freedom of religion and absolutely nothing about a Constitution, such as that possessed by ourselves. Prior to 1914, when World War I broke out, the citizens of the United States could travel most anywhere without passport, but the citizens of the various European governments had to have a passport in order to pass from one nation to another.

Will Make Little Difference
Now, whether we adopt the Marshall Plan for assisting the peoples of Europe to get back on their feet, or whether we do not, it will make little difference, I believe, in what sort of government the middle Europeans will have. They know practically nothing except an absolute ruler and the most natural ruler for them just now is Uncle Joe rather than Uncle Sam. So it ought not to be very surprising to Americans to observe what has happened in Czechoslovakia. The Communist Party was the natural party to which the Czechoslovaks have adhered.

Hitler was right. It will be remembered what he said and it was quoted in the press of the United States while we were assisting the Soviets so materially: "If the Soviets win in Europe they will impose a more autocratic government than Germany would impose in the event of Germany winning the war. Europe will just be out of the frying pan into the fire."

Hitler came very close to the truth.

A SAW AND A CARPENTER
With a poor saw, a good carpenter may do pretty good work. A poor carpenter does not do a good job even with a good saw.

A good carpenter and a good saw make a good team.

Drugs and medicines are pretty much the same as tools.

Drugs may be of good quality, but if they are not used properly they do not help much.

A good doctor knows his instruments and his medicines. He knows when to use them. He also knows when not to use them.

Drugs and medicines and cure-alls and nostrums and patent medicine are not much good without the doctor.

Good Taste

By FRANCES MARREL

IMPROVING APPEARANCE

"Tell me, please, how to improve my appearance. My face is rather sharp featured with prominent cheekbones. How should I wear my hair. I am twenty-one. How should I arch my eye-brows? I have small eyes. What kind of eye make-up should I use? My bottom lip is too thick. How should I apply lipstick?"

Answer: Since you are so young, why not wear a shoulder-length bob. There is nothing more becoming to a young girl and this style is still very fashionable.

Pull out only the stray hairs of your eye-brows. Don't thin them too much. The pencil line eyebrow has long since gone. The tendency is now toward naturalness. Carefully pencil your eyebrows toward the outer edges so that the line will extend out a trifle further than your eyes. Use a lead pencil for this purpose rather than an eyebrow pencil which will give an artificial look to your face. Instead of using mascara on your eye lashes, use a small amount of vaseline. This will give a glistening effect without the artificial beaded effect of mascara. Go light with your lipstick on your bottom lip extending it just to the edge of your lip line.

Question: In order to conform with "good taste" should mail to a widow be addressed: Mrs. Jane Smith or Mrs. John Smith?

Answer: Mrs. John Smith, always. Never Mrs. Jane Smith, which is incorrect.

Question: My grandchildren have the habit of introducing me to their young friends instead of introducing them to me. Give a word of advice on this subject in your column.

Answer: "Grandmother, this is Bill Jones or Mary Jones," is the only correct introduction; never "Bill or Mary, this is my Grandmother."

Present your problems to Miss Marrel who will promptly mail personal replies to questions from readers inclosing stamped, self-addressed envelopes.

Mrs. W. H. Brand To Join Alliance Revival Meetings

Mrs. W. H. Brand of Fort Wayne, Ind., will join her husband, Rev. W. H. Brand, Sunday, in the special series of evangelistic services which are in progress at the Alliance Gospel Tabernacle, 210 Pearson street.

Rev. Brand opened the series last Sunday in the church and the couple will be presented each evening next week with the exception of Saturday night as they continue their ministry. Mrs. Brand is a gifted pianist and organist, having played for seven years in the theater before her conversion. She also is a gifted accordionist and plays on the zitherphone.

Services Sunday in the church will be at 10:45 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. with next week's meetings scheduled at 7:30 nightly.

FIRST METHODIST TO HAVE PROGRAM

Sunday evening, March 14, at 7:30 o'clock, Miss Marie Joe Browne will present a program of dramatic interpretations of Negro poetry in the First Methodist church. The program will consist of poems, prose and comedies.

Beating swords into plowshares is only half the battle; the other half is converting men into plow hands.

Bethel Baptists To Hear Missionaries

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Morris, who are visiting for a few days in this district, will speak Sunday evening, March 14, at 7:45 o'clock in Bethel Baptist church. Mr. and Mrs. Morris will show colored slides of the work in their area of Lost Creek, Ky. Mrs. Morris will furnish special music and will also draw a picture with colored chalk. The picture will be awarded to the person bringing the largest number of people to the service.

Anyone hearing their story will truly be inspired as to the vast amount of work yet to be done in our own land as well as in foreign countries. Mr. and Mrs. Morris are former residents of New Castle. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Frew of Ellwood road.

Holiness Rally At Maitland Church

The Lawrence County Holiness association will hold its monthly rally Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the Maitland Memorial Primitive Methodist church, South Mill street.

Rev. George Sarber, the newly appointed president, will be in charge, and introduce the Claus Indian family who will participate in and present the program of the afternoon.

Sunday Schools Ready For Sixth Campaign Sunday

Tomorrow, Sunday, March 14, is the sixth Sunday of the eight weeks pre-Easter increase campaign being sponsored by the Lawrence County Sabbath School association, and to date the 25 New Castle Sunday schools have accumulated 1232 points and the 30 Sunday schools outside of New Castle have accumulated 1524 points. In addition to the Sunday school attendance goal, the other three goals of evangelism, church attendance and Bible study are also being stressed.

As has been stated before, the County Sunday School association provides the plan, keeps the attendance records, takes care of the publicity, announces the winners and makes the awards. It is the part of the individual Sunday school to appoint its committees, formulate its plan, and provide wholesome competition within the Sunday school. In most cases this is being done in an encouraging manner, and results are being obtained.

If any participating Sunday school has used a plan that has brought good results in any one of the four goals, they are invited to call County Sunday school headquarters, phone 351, and this will be published so that others may benefit by using the same plan should they wish to adopt it.

It is anticipated that the momentum gained in the first five weeks of this constructive increase effort, will continue and culminate with a record breaking attendance the final day of the campaign—Easter Sunday.

Center U. P. Will Have Singspiration

Special vocal music will be offered by the Misses Dorothy and Mary Lou Kidoo of Harlansburg at the community service Sunday evening at 8 o'clock in Center U. P. church. Rev. W. F. Holmes will speak on the theme "The Life I Should Have". A brief program of transcribed music will precede the service. Rev. Holmes has chosen "Shall We Go Back?" for his sermon topic Sunday morning at 11 o'clock.

In spite of the heavy snow, there has been a good attendance at the cottage prayer services conducted each Wednesday evening. These meetings will be continued at the various homes until May, when the congregation will assemble in the church during the summer months.

Ministerium To Meet On Monday

Members of the New Castle Ministerial association will meet on Monday morning at 10 o'clock in the First Presbyterian church, North Jefferson street, with the president, Rev. James N. Rainey, in charge.

New Resistance Move To Sweep Across Europe

So Predicts Herbert Morrison Of Britain In Utterance Today

BIRMINGHAM, England, March 13.—(INS)—Herbert Morrison predicted today the late Czechoslovak foreign minister Jan Masaryk will become the "inspiration of a new resistance movement" which will "sweep across Europe."

The Lord president of the council called Masaryk, whose funeral took place in Prague today, a "martyr for freedom."

He denounced the Communist seizure of power in Czechoslovakia as the "trampling underfoot of democracy."

Morrison, addressing the annual banquet of the Birmingham Jewellers' association, said:

"On top of all our economic troubles we find ourselves back in the same sort of nightmare aggression we thought we had banished by disposing of Hitler."

"Here in Britain we are facing squarely the questions of whether we and western civilization are to go down and whether the chance of firmly establishing world peace is to be lost."

Morrison, stating that the answer to these questions depends "on the way each and all of us in this country carry ourselves in the next two or three years," concluded:

"Let us not stand about at the crossroads while history moves past us and leaves us behind."

"Time is running against us."

"We are still in danger of doing too little and doing it too late."

'Lee Carson' Will Seek Divorce

Noted Woman War Correspondent Asks Return Of Baby Also

CHICAGO, March 13.—(INS)—Lee Carson, noted woman war correspondent, signed a bill for divorce today from her estranged husband, George C. Putnam, New York newspaperman.

At the same time, she appealed to police in both Chicago and New York to help her get back her 14-months-old daughter, Pracy, who she said was carried out of her hotel apartment yesterday by Putnam.

Miss Carson's attorneys said she couldn't sign a kidnapping charge against Putnam because their estrangement hadn't reached a legal status at the time.

They said that Putnam visited Miss Carson's apartment (at the Ambassador East hotel) to seek a reconciliation.

They added that he picked the baby up out of its crib and ran out with her when Miss Carson rejected his appeal.

Miss Carson said: "Pracy only had on a little dress—no shoes or bonnet. He just picked her up out of her crib, with a baby blanket, and ran out."

Chicago police ordered a search for the child.

Miss Carson said her divorce suit would charge cruelty.

In Africa, Zulu women may have a divorce summons served on their husbands by paying $1.25 to a native commissioner. A week later they may look for a new man.

See New Battle On Rent Control

WASHINGTON, March 13.—(INS)—A battle shaped up today in Congress over a new rent control act approved by the House Banking and Currency committee which drastically relaxes existing government restrictions.

Chief feature of the measure, which continues controls until April 1, 1949, is a provision permitting local boards to end rent ceilings or increase rents.

The existing law gives the housing expediter, who administers the rent control act, authority to veto a local board's recommendations. As amended by the committee the boards would have sole authority to end rent controls in their areas after public hearings.

Rep. Monroney (D) Okla. assailed the new provision. He stated that it would "knock an awful hole in effective rent controls" and termed it "the most sweeping revision of rent control that has ever taken place."

Monroney added that if enacted into law it would mean that millions of people would be threatened with rent increases of 10 to 25 per cent or no controls at all.

The local rent control boards are composed of members appointed by the housing expediter upon the recommendation of state governors. In the past it has been charged that they have not always been representative of all groups.

Latest News Of Local Folks In 'St. Pete' Area

(By JAMES P. CALDWELL)

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 9.—Mrs. Mayo Porter, corner Wallace and Highland, emerged from a birthday party here with her face reddened and hair mussed, by a shower of kisses from members of the orchestra. Mr. Porter, who had been sitting at his wife's side, was too much surprised to reach for his trusty .38. It wouldn't have been any use, anyhow, as he had carelessly left the gun in his other trousers. Their kissing act, which came at the conclusion of the singing of that familiar hymn, "Happy Birthday," was witnessed by several hundred persons who had been feeding their faces in the Tramor Cafeteria. The New Castle people who were throwing the party were under the leadership of Mrs. J. G. Clements and included Mr. and Mrs. Reese Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Whitacre, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Clements, and of course, Mr. and Mrs. Mayo Porter, as it was the latter who had reached another milestone. Owing to the kissing incident, Mrs. Porter was too frustrated to reveal just which birthday it was, but she declared she "had enough."

I was sitting in a cafeteria the other morning, silently consuming something they call food, when I glanced at a man standing in the aisle. As he turned around, I recognized Attorney Homer Drake. I was so greatly surprised that I almost spilled egg on my vest. But recovering quickly, I crooked the forefinger of my right hand in a "come hither" sort of way and Homer made his way over to where I was sitting. We wagged paws, and inquired about each other's health, which we learned to be good. Homer said Milford Wood had accompanied him to St. Petersburg. They had taken their time, seven days, on the trip, and had encountered no mishaps of any kind.

Income and outgoing tourists are pretty well balanced at this time, with the scales still tilting toward the incoming. The latest New Castle registrations are Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Boyles, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. McKee, Mrs. Eden Powell, Clifford Ziegler and Miss Florence Ziegler.

Among the list of people registered in Miami, given in my last letter, should have been Mrs. Ethel Rantz Ferver. I offer my deepest apology for this error, in omitting Mrs. Ferver's name.

I met Mrs. Chester Reynolds on the street this morning. I asked her what Chester was doing to kill time. She said that he was working in his garden. Upon further inquiry, I learned that Chester has a notion he can develop an odorless onion and make his fortune. But the formula is a "top secret," as they say in Washington.

Two bad chimneys caused calls Friday night, the chief's car being summoned to the home of J. W. Morrow, of 4 N. Beaver street at 8:20 p. m., when smoke filled the home, and at 12:35 a. m., firemen were called to 802 S. Mill street, when bricks fell down inside the chimney, clogging the flue.

Gasoline Catches Fire This Afternoon

Firemen were called to the Hartwell Motor Company at 101 W. Cherry street, at 12:50 o'clock this afternoon, when gasoline which was being pumped from a tank, caught fire from an electric spark.

Employees of the company kept the fire under control until firemen arrived and extinguished the blaze. The loss was slight, it is stated.

Production for the corresponding week last year was estimated at 12,807,000 tons.

Production from Jan. 1 through March 6 was set at 116,230,000 tons, as compared with 125,129,000 net tons last year.

Harding Delights Executives Club With Wit, Humor

Ambassador Of Good Will From North Carolina Brings Laughs From Club Members

Edmund H. Harding, the Tarheel Humorist, an ambassador of good will from North Carolina, lived up to all advance notices in his appearance before members of the New Castle Executives Club at their monthly dinner meeting in The Castleton, Friday evening.

Mr. Harding kept his audience in an uproar with his jokes and stories for an hour and a half, all of them good clean bits of humor. His program was a refreshing contrast to the other numbers which have been on this year's program, all of a serious vein.

Vice president Orville Flora presided in the absence of President S. Glenn McCracken, and presented Dudley Arnold, who introduced the speaker.

Mr. Flora named a committee of Dr. A. H. Borland, W. J. Caldwell, and R. J. Elliott, to present nominations for three directors to be elected this year.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Jenkins, Sr., Dr. and Mrs. Wesley Post, and Mr. and Mrs. John E. White were named members of the reception committee for the next meeting, which will take place on April 23, when the speaker will be Dr. L. Rosenfield, noted educator, whose subject will be, "Peace of mind and how to obtain it."

Chairman R. Harold Blewitt states that there are many places open for veterans who wish to play with the band. Anyone wishing a tryout is asked to present themselves at the next rehearsal on Thursday evening of next week.

British Statement On Soviet Recalled

LONDON, March 13.—(INS)—Reports of mounting headlines in Moscow recalled today a recent official British statement, on Soviet propaganda and secrecy.

Christopher Mayhew, undersecretary for foreign affairs, said on his return to London from Lake Success that if the full facts on conditions were known to the workers of Europe the cominform "would collapse."

Reports in London diplomatic circles within the last few days lend credence to the headline dispatches.

These indicate that many initial benefits resulting when the Russians devalued the ruble and ended rationing have disappeared.

A wider range of goods is said to be available but the quality is lower and prices higher, this information said that poor distribution also is playing a part in the hardships.

Resistance Only Defense For Red Aggression

By MARTHA KEARNEY
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

SAN FRANCISCO, March 13.—The conquest of Czechoslovakia, according to former Irish Prime Minister Eamon De Valera, proves that it is impossible for any nation to grant concessions to the Soviet Union.

As Czechoslovakia buried Jan Masaryk, foreign minister of the Czech republic, today the Irish statesman said sadly:

"This proves that immediate and remorseless resistance is the only defense against Russia aggression. Attempts to compromise with Russia end only in downfall and defeat."

The tall, spare Irish leader added:

"All of Europe worries now about the next war. The date of its beginning no one knows. Europe only knows that every country is reluctant to declare war but that war will come as a result of the policies of the Soviet Union."

Nine Students Are Overcome By Fumes While On Bus Ride

PITTSBURGH, March 13.—(INS)—Eight boys and one girl from Monessen high school were treated at a Pittsburgh hospital today for carbon monoxide poisoning.

The youths were overcome while on a bus tour of Pittsburgh's Highland Park. The bus driver said one of the boys notified him there were several persons sick in the rear of the bus.

Rushed To Hospital

They were rushed to the hospital by a passing truck driver. None was reported in a serious condition.

The bus was one of eight carrying 321 children on the tour. There were 42 on the bus in which gas leaked.

Ten Duquesne children were overcome by carbon monoxide gas while on a similar tour of Highland Park last Saturday.

RECOVER AUTO

Police Lieut. Cecil F. Suber and Cruiser Operator Ralph Criswell early this morning recovered the auto of Harry Mone, 617 East Reynolds street, which was stolen from West North street. The car was found on Harbor hill.

Chicago Mother Keeps Baby Alive Till Help Arrives

Young Mother Breathes Into
Baby's Mouth, Firemen Arrive
With Oxygen Tanks

CHICAGO, March 13.—(INS)—A young mother's agonizing hour-long battle to save her gasping two-months-old son by breathing air into his lungs was believed won today.

Physicians at Michael Reese hospital continued to kindle the spark of life that Mrs. Clara Barczak, 21, breathed into the mouth of her premature child, Charles Barczak Jr.

The child, however, still was on the critical list at the hospital, but physicians were confident the boy would recover. They placed the infant in an oxygen tent to insure more rapid recovery from what they believed was a possible throat obstruction.

Rushed To Hospital

Mrs. Barczak's fight to save her son began yesterday when she found him gasping for breath in her South Side home.

At the child's breathing became more labored, she picked up her 6-pound son and breathed air into his lungs until a fire rescue squad finally was summoned.

Firemen worked on the boy for 45 minutes and then raced him to the Roseland Community hospital where he was placed in an oxygen tent. Later he was removed to the Michael Reese hospital.

Even Plane Gets 'Stuck In Mud'

CHICAGO, March 13.—(INS)—Road-trouble, the bane of the touring motorist, could be applied today to airplanes as well.

A Chicago and Southern Airlines plane landed in Chicago yesterday, 12 hours late.

When the pilot jumped out, he explained why it took him so long to fly from Evansville, Ind., to Chicago, a flying time of less than two hours.

The plane skidded off the runway at Hulman Field in Terre Haute, Ind., and a tractor and two trucks worked all night to pull it out of the mud.

Pollution Program Strengthened Today

HARRISBURG, March 13.—(INS)—Pennsylvania's program to end stream pollution was strengthened today with completion of the Ohio river valley stream sanitation compact between the Commonwealth and seven other states.

The compact was rounded out when the Virginia assembly approved the agreement effective 90 days after adjournment of its present session, according to Gov. James H. Duff.

The compact by Pennsylvania, Indiana, Kentucky, New York, Illinois, Maryland, West Virginia and Virginia heralds "united action by these states in cleaning up the interstate streams," he said.

PHILADELPHIA, March 13.—(INS)—Seven-year-old John W. Guille of North Philadelphia lay near death today—his two legs severed just below the hips—because another small boy pushed him.

The shove sent him sprawling beneath the wheels of a moving freight train on the Reading railroad near his home. The accident occurred on the way home from St. Michael's parochial school.

James Weeks, fireman of the four-car freight, saw the push and shouted to the engineer, Fred Klump, who brought the train to a stop within 18 feet.

Didn't Even Cry

They summoned aid to extricate the boy who was pinioned under the wheels. Firemen used giant jacks to raise the car.

John was still conscious when they put him into an ambulance. His legs were gone, but he was beyond pain, and did not cry.

"Some kid pushed me," he said as he was being rushed to a hospital.

Police last night were still questioning his playmates to find the identity of the boy who pushed him.

Copple Admits Jury Was Right

Prisoner, Found Guilty Of Robbery, Confesses To Part In Recent Hold-up Here

OTHER NEWS OF COURT HOUSE HILL

Joseph Copple, of 610 South Ray street, who was found guilty in criminal court this week of robbery, after he and Gerald K. Hanna, had held up and robbed Wilbert B. Gorman of his wallet and contents, admitted to Sheriff Frank L. Coen that the jury had been right in his case. Coen informed the district attorney, who had Copple brought before him, when he confessed to all the details of the crime, and took state police to his home on South Ray street, where Gorman's wallet was recovered.

Copple stated that District Attorney LeRoy Donaldson had made him mad, when he charged Copple with being too lazy to work in the charge to the jury, which led to the confession to the sheriff, and to the charge that the D.A. had been a little rough on him when he charged him with being lazy.

Copple, along with the other prisoners found guilty at the March term will undoubtedly be sentenced shortly.

Yahn agreed to support his family, and promised to do better, with the result that the court was inclined to be lenient with him.

Southern Governors Have Conference To Block Truman
WASHINGTON, March 13.—(INS)—Southern governors marched on Washington today, voicing the determination to block Dixie Democrats to re-elect President Truman's nomination and to "get a candidate of our own".

The special southern governors conference is a war council against the President's civil rights program, which has rocked the Democratic party below the Mason-Dixon line.

Pre-convention "rebel yells" were resounding within earshot of the White House where, only Friday, Mr. Truman played host to a "harmony" luncheon of the Democratic executive committee.

The governors were smarting under Mr. Truman's reiteration at the luncheon that he will not retreat one iota from his anti-Jim Crow program.

Gov. Ben T. Lamey, of Arkansas, called for the defeat of the President for nomination at the national Democratic convention which begins in Philadelphia July 12, Laney said:

"We must do everything we can to block Truman's nomination at Philadelphia."

DR. E. LEE BOYLES—New Castle News Photo

Fifty-three years spent in any profession or vocation is a long time—many persons never reach that milestone in their careers—but Dr. E. Lee Boyles, dean of Lawrence county dentists, last week attained that distinction. March 6 marked over a half century of dental surgery for the venerable city practitioner, who first hung out his shingle in New Castle in the year 1895.

Dr. Boyles' offices are at 120 East North street, a business building that once was a private dwelling and which he owns. He has been practicing his profession from this location since 1902, and previously had his office on Washington street.

With the years the honors have come to Dr. Boyles. Only last year he was made a life member of the American Dental Society. In 1944 he was awarded the gold key emblematic of 50 years service by the ninth district of the Pennsylvania State Dental Society. He is also an emeritus member of the Dental Society of Pittsburgh and a life member of the state organization.

Born Near Oil City
Dr. Boyles was born in Petroleum Center, Pa., near Oil City, in 1872, the son of James M. and Elizabeth M. Boyles. His father, a veteran of the Civil War, was superintendent of the Niagara Oil Company. When he was an infant of three months Dr. Boyles' parents moved to New Castle, and he has resided here ever since.

The future dentist attended local schools, and when he decided upon his profession went to the Pennsylvania College of Dental Surgery in Philadelphia, being graduated from that institution with the class of 1895. The same year he launched his practice in New Castle.

Shortly after he established himself in his North street offices Dr. Boyles married the former Bess Patterson. They have two children, John P. Boyles, superintendent of division 2 of the Shenango Pottery company, and Mrs. Sarah B. Hodd of Warren, O. There are no grandchildren.

Dr. Boyles has two brothers, Dr. H. D. Boyles and Harry M. Boyles, both of New Castle.

The veteran dentist is a 32nd degree Mason and a member of the First Presbyterian church. He served as a board member of his church for a number of years.

Dentistry Has Changed
Quizzed upon the comparison of present-day dental surgery and that of by-gone years, Dr. Boyles was most enlightening.

"The profession has taken great strides, it indeed has all medicine," he said.

Cost Of Education Is Shown Soaring
DU BOIS, Pa., March 13.—(INS)—The cost of education has soared along with the cost of everything else, according to a report today by the DuBois board of education.

DuBois taxpayers were told that a contract for pencils, paper and other minor items let recently for the next school term at a cost of $3,114.

This compared with $1,400 that the same items cost eight years ago, or an increase of some 120 per cent, according to the school board.

Raise Tuition At College For Women
PITTSBURGH, March 13.—(INS)—Tuition charges at Pennsylvania College for women in Pittsburgh will be raised $50 to $525 a year, with the opening of the fall term next September.

Board and room charges also will be raised $100 to $775, President Paul R. Anderson said.

President Anderson said a survey revealed general operating costs have risen 100 per cent in the last seven years, while wages have increased from 20 to 35 per cent in the same period.

Allege Greek Guerrillas Are Kidnapping Young Children, About 12,000 Missing

ATHENS, March 13.—(INS)—The United Nations Balkan Commission was reported today to be preparing an investigation of alleged kidnappings of Greek children by Communist guerrillas.

A Dutch member of the commission said that the U. N. group will devote most of its time to probing charges that Communists forcibly abducted about 12,000 Greek youngsters.

The children reportedly were sent to Yugoslavia and Albania for indoctrination as Communists.

(At Lake Success, New York, the U. N. received a cable from Archbishop Damaskinos of Greece, denouncing guerrilla seizures of children.)

Field Artillery
Will Receive Pay

Quarterly Pay Checks Will Be Distributed To Local Guardsmen At Drill Next Week

Friday evening, March 19, will be payday for Service Battery of the 229th Field Artillery Battalion, one of the units of the Pennsylvania National Guard stationed at the local Armory. On that day the boys who make it a point to be on hand for drill every week get paid for their time and trouble. This pay is part of the return these men get. Good fellowship with men of like interests, preparing themselves for any emergency and knowledge of a patriotic duty done well are some of the other returns.

The payrolls for Headquarters and Headquarters Battery and for the Medical Detachment have been submitted and it is very possible the pay checks for these units will also be on hand on the above date for distribution to the men in these units.

Lt. Col. Varsace, the army instructor for the 229th Field Artillery Battalion and for the 10th Field Artillery Battalion, stationed in Pittsburgh, Pa., plans to be at the local Armory on that evening to look over the personnel of the units and their equipment.

Any man between the ages of 17 and 35 who is interested in keeping himself physically fit, keeping his country the right kind of a place to live in, and incidentally wanting to earn extra money is invited to stop at the Armory any Wednesday or Friday evening to learn the advantages of membership in the local 229th.

Grow your own vegetables this year

With prices so high, this is a good time to revive your old victory garden if you've let it go to seed.

Of course, a garden takes attention, but it repays you many times in fresh vegetables, healthful exercise, and money in the bank.

To get the best results, plan for a succession of crops, cultivate your garden faithfully, and give it PLENTY OF WATER.

Here's a suggestion for watering your plants: give your garden a good soaking when you water it. A light sprinkling only packs the earth down, making it difficult for the plants to breathe.

Col. Lorence Declares Canal Is District Need

"If heavy basic industries are to remain in the Shenango and Mahoning valley—the original steel center of the United States—then there must be found a mode of transportation for bulk materials, obtainable at a much lower cost."

Col. Walter E. Lorence, vice president of the Ohio Valley Improvement Association, of Cincinnati, O., made this declaration on Thursday afternoon during a conference in this city.

A proposed canal winding about 105 miles from Ashtabula, O., on Lake Erie to the Ohio river at Rochester, Pa., is the answer to this problem that will someday surely have to be faced by the city of New Castle and its residents, he said.

Also attending the luncheon-interview were Ivor Davis, president of the Greater New Castle Association; John H. Griffee, staff representative of the United Steelworkers of America, CIO, and Samuel Neff, staff representative of the United Steelworkers, CIO, of Ellwood City.

The labor market and geographic location of New Castle and surrounding areas are outstanding on an excellent basis," said Col. Lorence, now a retired army engineer.

"However, during the last 40 years, many heavy basic industries have left the area, establishing nearer to lakes and rivers in search for a lower cost of transportation," he said.

Col. Lorence pointed out that bordering up and down the entire length of the proposed canal, there is land that can be and will be utilized by industries. In future years they will be expanding, assuring residents of the valley a sound and sure future. At present basic industries are seeking for

St. Patrick, Mo., Is Getting Ready For Celebration

March 17 Is Big Day In Small Missouri Town, Postoffice Does Heavy Business

ST. PATRICK, Mo., March 13.—(INS)—The tiny community of St. Patrick, Mo., is getting ready to observe St. Patrick's Day on March 17.

And the post office is having a busy time. More than 20,000 letters from all parts of the world have arrived. They will be remailed March 17 with the postmark reading "St. Patrick, Mo., the only one in the world."

Plan High Mass

The celebration will get under way with a solemn high mass at the Community church. The celebrant will be the Rev. Francis O'Duignan, the town's unofficial mayor. He will be assisted at the mass by his brothers, the Rev. Denis O'Duignan of St. Joseph, Mo., and the Rev. Michael O'Duignan of Lake Arrowhead, Calif.

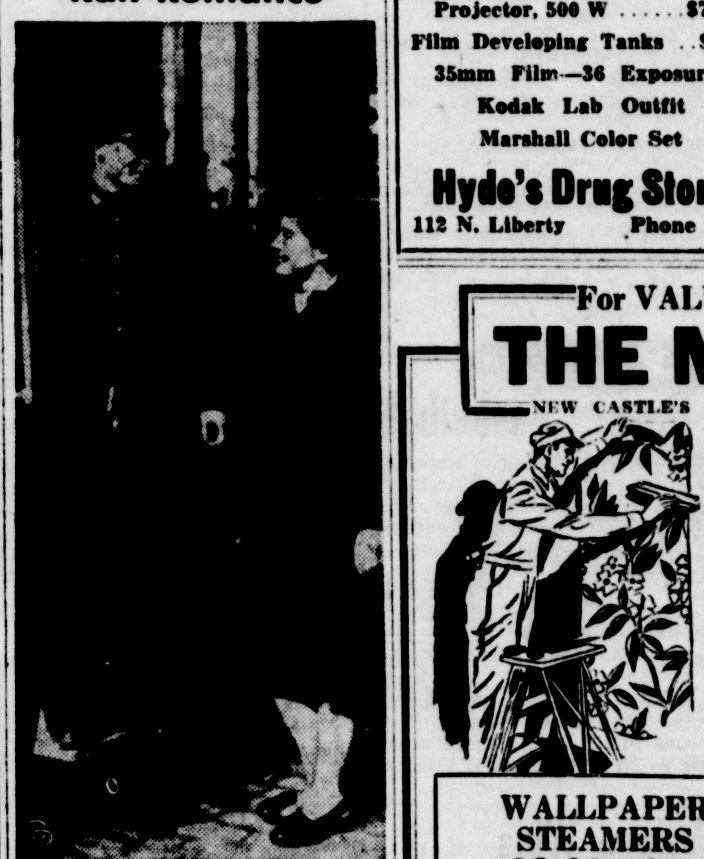

St. Patrick, Mo., named for Ireland's patron saint, was settled 111 years ago by a group of Irish immigrants.

State Population Expected To Rise

HARRISBURG—The recent release by the United States Bureau of the Census of an estimate of the population of Pennsylvania, as of July first, last year, confirms the estimates made by the state planning board of the Department of Commerce last year.

The planning board's estimate showed that Pennsylvania, as of August 1, 1946, had attained a population of 10,238,000, an increase of 337,832 since 1940. The census estimate shows a further gain of about 43,000 to July, 1947. Since the state planning board's estimates during the period of the war considered men and women in military service as part of the state's population, while the earlier census estimates did not, there was at one time a wide discrepancy between these two sources of information, causing apprehension that the state's population was actually declining. This fear was unfounded and it is likely, if present tendencies continue, that the next census will show the state's population to be more than 10,300,000.

Tiny Radiophone Seen For Future

BOSTON, March 13.—(INS)—A radio receiver the size of a wrist watch, a pocket-sized radiophone to talk with home or office and a tiny television set about as big as a small camera were seen today as products of atomic energy in the future.

The predictions were made by David Sarnoff, president of the Radio Corporation of America. He spoke at the annual Boston University Founders' Day banquet.

He told more than 1,000 guests that these wonders of the future may be made possible through small capsules of nuclear energy. He said that beyond today's horizon automobiles, tractors, airplanes, locomotives and ships also may be powered by small capsules of nuclear energy.

Portugal And Eire Support Spain For Marshall Plan Aid

PARIS, March 13.—(INS)—Portugal and Eire were reported today to be ready to sponsor Spain for admission to the Marshall Plan when the 16-nation conference meets in Paris Monday.

International News Service learned exclusively that the Portuguese and Irish move will be based on the belief that Russia's most recent actions in Europe may have lessened the democracies' objections to Franco.

They believe that the strategic advantages of including Spain in the anti-communist bloc may overcome the western nations' distrust of the Franco regime.

Harriet Beecher Stowe, the author of "Uncle Tom's Cabin", received $300 for the serial rights. For the stage rights, she received little or nothing. If she had been rewarded on the present royalty basis, her earnings from the play alone would have amounted to about $2,000,000.

Almost Half-Million In Advance Sales In Buc Till

By JIMMY JORDAN
(International News Service Sports Writer)
PITTSBURGH, March 13.—Those somewhat amazing Pittsburgh Pirates already have almost half a million dollars in the cash box, six weeks before the baseball season opens.

Not that there's anything amazing about them on the field, unless one would call their almost complete ineptness of last season that.

But they are amazing in the way they draw those cash customers through the turnstiles, even while floundering around trying to outplay the Philadelphia Phillies for last place in the National League.

Al Schlenker, assistant treasurer of the Bucs, had a look skin to that of the cat that swallowed the canary today as he told of the tremendous advance sale for 1948—not too long after the team wound up in a dead heat with the Phils for the dubious honor of occupying the cellar.

"I don't know where they're coming from, but we have more orders for season tickets this year than ever before," Al said.

"Already, there is more than $480,000 in, and that may be some sort of a major league record for advance season sales. Anyway, it's a record for Forbes Field.

"And that doesn't count sales for opening day, and other special days during the season.

"These are all season sales."

Schlenker went on to explain that not only was the amount already in the till a record at Forbes Field, but represented more than seven times the highest amount ever received in pre-season sales by the old Dreyfuss-Benevise regime in the smoggy city.

Before Frank McKinney, Bing Crosby, Tom Galbreath, et al. took over the Pirates in the waning months of the 1946 season, the all-time record in pre-season sales was $64,000, Schlenker said.

Last year, with Hank Greenberg, a refurbished ball park, and other accommodations to attract the fans, the pre-season sale soared to $370,000.

But when the Bucs flopped with a resounding thud heard 'round the league last season, the new owners had reason to expect the ticket sales to do likewise.

Instead, the faithful rallied around as they never did before, and it looks like last year's record attendance mark of a million and a quarter fans may be surpassed.

"They're coming from all over," says Schlenker. "Maybe it's because of the trades and purchases we made during the winter. Or maybe it's because they figure we can't go down any further."

"But whatever it is, they'll be here. Anyway, their money is here already, and the snow and ice still is on the infield."

Quarter-Finals End Tonight In N. Y. Games

DE PAUL-N.C. ST., N.Y.U. VS. TEXAS IN GARDEN TILTS

By LES CONKLIN
(N.Y. Sports Writer)
NEW YORK, March 13.—The quarter-final round of the National Basketball Tournament will be concluded at Madison Square Garden tonight with New York University playing Texas, and North Carolina State taking on De Paul.

The winners will clash in one of Monday night's semi-finals, with Western Kentucky and St. Louis meeting in the other.

N.Y.U. was beaten earlier in the week by City College, the Violet's second defeat of the season, mainly because little Don Forman, its set shot star, was sidelined with a sacroiliac condition. Tonight Forman probably will play, for a part of the game at least, and as a result N.Y.U. will be the favorite.

Texas, with a 20-4 record for the season, will rely on Tom Hamilton, who scored 22 points in personally defeating City College at the Garden earlier this season. Texas has a 6-7 center, Johnny Langdon, who in height is not in scoring can match Adolph Schayes, the N.Y.U. star.

The Longhorns figure that off their win over City College, one of the two conquerors of N.Y.U., they have a chance against the Violets.

Third-seeded North Carolina State, with the highest scoring average in the country and an imposing record of 29-3, would seem at first glance to have an edge over DePaul, which won 21 games while losing six.

However, DePaul, the only former invitation champion in the tournament this year, have been through a rugged schedule. Their six defeats do not look so bad when it is considered they played home-and-home series with Notre Dame, St. Louis, Kentucky and Loyola. The Blue Demons lost twice to Kentucky, but broke even with the other three teams.

DePaul is sparked by Ed Mikan, a brother of the great George. Ed has racked up 388 points this season.

State will be without the services of its high scorer, Dick Dickey, who was left home with mumps. Furthermore, the Wolfpack players, the "Shorties" of the tournament, will be at a disadvantage in height.

Score is 57 To 43 As Falcons Win Second Time Over Valley Team; Kendra Star

Faced by the veteran Gabby Kendra and "Springs" Fomka, the Polish Falcons of New Castle defeated the Rochester Legion, 57 to 43, last night at the Rochester floor for the second defeat handed the valley team this year by Coach Hank Koszela's powerhouse quintet.

Big Bill Jersey led the Rochesterians in scoring with 15 points, Kendra being high man with 16 and Fomka having 12.

Sunday at three p. m. the Falcons will play the rubber game with the strong Donegan Raiders of Sharpsville at the local Falcon floor, on Miller avenue. The two teams have each won one this year in previous meetings. Coach "Hammering" Hank Koszela is looking for a tough engagement Sunday but hopes to see his Falcons victorious. The Donegans have the pick of Mercer county on their roster.

Derby Entry List Is Small

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Mar. 13.—(INS)—If wishes were horses, every one of 109 blue-blooded three-year-olds would win the 74th running of the Kentucky Derby at Churchill Downs May 1.

The list of eligibles for the annual mile-and-a-quarter classic is the smallest in a decade, but in announcing the nominees today Col. Matt J. Winn, the daddy of the derby, remarked pointedly that the field of 109 is the most capable in recent years.

Calumet Farm's Citation, hottest winter book favorite since Count Fleet of five years ago, heads the nominated group which, as a whole, 29, and placed in more juvenile stakes than any other recent derby field.

"More than 37 percent," said Col. Winn, "or better than one in every three of the eligibles, either won an added money race last year or ran second or third in one."

The records support this statement. There are, to begin with, Citation's five stablemates, Beau Dandy, Bewitch, Coaltown, Free America and Whirl Blast.

Of these, Bewitch holds the biggest name. The Bull Lea-Potheon filly—only female entry in the entire field for 1948—was the leading money winner among all two-year-olds last year, hauling down $213,675 for eight victories in 10 1/4 starts.

However, it is a proven postulate that fillies are not at their best at Derby time; only one filly has ever won the Kentucky Derby, and there remains some doubt as to whether Calumet owner Warren Wright and trainer Jimmy Jones will choose to pay $1,000 to start the puddy Bewitch in the run for the roses May 1.

District Players Will Get Tryouts

Several From New Castle And District Will Get Tryouts With Mid-Atlantic Team

When George "Pappy" Smith, business manager of the New Castle team of the Mid-Atlantic, reaches this city for the start of spring tryouts around April 6, he will find a goodly number of fine looking young prospects to greet him.

Quite a few boys in this district are anxious to make the grade with the "chiefs" and will be on hand at P. J. Flaherty field when the call is issued.

Several hopefuls

Here is a partial list of some of the young candidates, who have contacted "Bugs" Walther at The News for tryouts:

Joe Ford, Ellwood City, 20, right-handed pitcher, former Ellwood High mound star.

Glenn Hoover, 17, right-handed pitcher, former Union High ace.

Eddie Sedmick, 20, of Thomas, W. Va., a catcher, reported to be ready for the class C type of ball.

Billy McClintock, former Ellwood City High star shortstop and a member of the championship Ellwood Elks of two years ago.

There will probably be many others in this locality who will want a tryout. The opening game of the year here will probably be on April 30, bringing the Homestead Grays for an exhibition game. The league card starts May 7 with the Butler Yankees here for a three-game stand.

ALEXANDER HAS ONE-STROKE LEAD AT JACKSONVILLE

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., March 13.—(INS)—Skip Alexander went into the third round of the $10,000 Jacksonville open golf tournament today with a slender one-stroke lead.

The Southern Pines, N. C., pro turned in a 71 yesterday to give him a 36-hole total of 138, six under par.

Savel, a relatively unknown from Sarasota, N. Y., added a 69 to his first-round 70 to take over second place with 139.

Tourney officials disqualified Fred Haas, Jr., of New Orleans for placing his ball at the side instead of behind a parallel hazard.

Chick Harbert, of Detroit moved into third position, two strokes off the lead with 140.

The ever-dangerous Bobby Locke of Johannesburg, South Africa, kept within striking distance of the tourney leadership with a three-under 141. Locke fired a 68 on his second round to deadlock Ed Furgol of Pontiac, Mich., in fourth spot.

Meyer Fretting Over Pitchers' Homer Generosity

HOLLYWOOD, March 13.—(INS)—Manager Bill Meyer of the Pittsburgh Pirates had a new kind of worry today.

His pitchers are throwing too many home run balls.

The Bucs yesterday by taking a 6-5 decision, but four of the opposition's runs came on two home runs, by Cliff Abernson and Forrest Burgess. That made it 11 home runs off Pirate pitchers in their five exhibition games thus far.

The Pirates, with Kiner out of the lineup, were unable to come up with a round tripper, but Stan Rolek, the ex-Brooklynie, drove in two runs with a pair of singles, while Joe Grace and Wally Westlake each came up with a pair of safeties.

Lions Sponsoring Donkey Basketball

It will be an evening of genuine fun at the Arena come March 24 when the Lions club of New Castle will sponsor something entirely different in the world of sport—donkey basketball.

This is a game that is sweeping the nation. It packs thrills, chills and spills. It is funny to the 'nth degree, it will amuse the adults as well as the kiddies. If you have ever ridden a donkey, you know what the players can expect. You will want to be among those present the night of Wednesday, March 24.

Aliquippa Wins Junior Cage Toga

HOMESTEAD, Pa., March 13.—(INS)—Aliquippa Junior High school today wore the toga of Junior WPIAL champion after handing Greensburg a 52-32 lacing on the Homestead high school court.

The Quips succeeded Duquesne as Junior titlist.

Bill Steel, with 16 points, and Joe Stalla, with 15, paced the victors in their easy triumph.

Cerdan Stops Lavern Roach In Eighth Heat

LETHAL-HITTING FRENCH MIDDLE BATTERS TEXAN

By DAVIS J. WALSH
(International News Service Sports Writer)
NEW YORK, March 13.—All was confusion today on plug-ugly plaza and, at that, it wasn't monopolized by Lavern Roach, the youth whom France's Marcel Cerdan hit as though with a belying pin only a few hours before.

Doubtless the young man was vaguely trying to figure why the articles of agreement called only for Cerdan. Whereas, that must have been the 20th Century Limited which landed with everything, including the club car, and hashed and bashed him into a state of helpless surrender in 2:31 of the eighth round last night.

Today the semi-active Mike Jacobs and his minions planned to pressure the Cerdan people for another performance under the lights as soon as may be. But they have to talk fast, and adroitly.

The European champion has booked passage for a Tuesday sailing, and probably won't return until assured that his next appearance will be at the Yankee Stadium for the title itself. The off-stage prattle was that Welterweight Champion Ray Robinson might get a quick shuffle into this deal as the party of the other part.

Of course, that's presuming the enigmatic champion, Rocky Graziano, will remain a persona non grata in New York.

Best Form Yet

Cerdan, 156½ pounds, was a better Cerdan than New York yet had seen; he seemed a pretty terrific fellow, all told, who hit as though with the blunt end only.

The first time he did that was in the opening moments of the second round when a straight right came whistling out of a crouch and sat Roach down for 9. It landed high on the Texan's cheek bone and still left him stunned.

In fact, he was never quite the same again and was down at least once and maybe twice more in the round, depending on whether Referee Arthur Donovan or the timekeeper—neither was diagnosing the symptom. A sharpshooting Cerdan wouldn't have let it go any further than that.

But his layoff had left his marksmanship pretty lurid looking, first and last, and he missed many a head punch—although Roach might be inclined to doubt it.

MIZE CAUGHT IN INDIAN AMBUSH

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

ANNOUNCEMENT was made by Len Gilbert, president of the City Baseball loop today, that the next meeting of officials and managers would be held April 1, instead of April 8, as stated at the league's Thursday night meeting. The new date was arrived because of the twenty-fifth annual banquet of the Lawrence County Sportsman's Association in the Cathedral. Twelve teams will comprise the league. Efforts will be made by President Gilbert to affiliate the local organization with the National Baseball Federation.

Mike Berkovich of Niles, now under the banner of Jimmy Dunn of Cleveland, has been matched to box Eddie Miller of Dayton, in Toledo, March 18. . . . Dan Parker, sports editor of the New York Daily Mirror, in reporting some of the ills with present boxing, writes: Managing a boxer should be a post of trust, held by an honorable man. A human life is in his hands and the degree of concern he shows for the physical and material welfare of his charge will decide whether the boxer winds up with all his buttons and enough shekels to make up for the punishment he had to take earning them or as a blind or punch drunk physical wreck. Yet almost any human culture who can post the price of a license can become a manager and submit boxers to the terrible penalties his ignorance, callousness and greed will exact. . . . At the recent trappers auction in Titusville, the La Femme extolled their art in trapping beaver, the latest field to be invaded by the weaker sex? They proved themselves better than men. Mrs. Gerald Fullom of Centerville, displayed a pelt measuring 81 inches, which was tops for the day. Highest price for the sale, however, was paid to Mrs. Mildred Warden, Tyroneville, who sold a 69-inch skin for $62.

Robinson Defeats Glassport, 29-26; 'A' Final Tonight

PITTSBURGH, March 13.—(INS)—Robinson Township, after a surprising 29-26 upset of Glassport, today was preparing to meet Irwin Tuesday night in Pitt stadium for the WPIAL class B title.

Robinson was trailing, 20-12, at half time in the semi-final game in the stadium last night, but came back to set up a defense that limited highly-favored Glassport to but three points in each of the last two quarters.

Mario Sicher and Bill Blumling began hitting the hoop, and Robinson pulled out in front in the final period.

Tonight at the Pitt pavilion Ford City and McKeesport, Sections 1 and 6 respectively, will clash for the class "A" crown of the WPIAL. The Glassers whipped Brentwood and Wilkinsburg in their title march, while McKeesport dumped Charleroi and Aliquippa to advance.

Zubkowsky Benefit Will Draw Crowd

K. Pulaski Will Battle Pitt Panthers Gridders Sunday At K.P. Floor: Two Games

Big John Zubkowsky will be honored by his friends Sunday at the K. Pulaski hall, as the K. Pulaski "Big Five" battles the Pitt Panthers football stars on the hardwood court. The game, a benefit for big "Zubbo", as he is affectionately called, will get under way about 3:15 following a two o'clock prelim in which the Pulaski Cubs will play a fast local team.

All proceeds of the game Sunday will be turned over to Zubkowsky to help defray expenses of a medical checkup at the Cleveland Clinic after the floor season ends.

Expect Banner Crowd

Zubkowsky has been playing under a great handicap all season and has done a swell job of helping in the Pulaski to many thrilling victories. Big John is deserving of everything that can be done for him.

On the Pitt Panthers roster will be found two well-known local stars, Tony Razzano and Lindy Lauro, along with such stars as Leo Skladany, Bob Plotz, Bernie Berkowski, Ralph Short and Bimbo Cecconi.

It promises to be a big afternoon at the popular K. P. hall and a large crowd is indicated in honor of "Zubbo".

G. I. SHINES WIN

The G. I. Shines took a 37-32 win from the Rebels last night in a House league tilt, with Tony Claletta in a starring role, banking in 14 markers. Hamilton was the Rebel ace with 11.

Penn State's No. 1 golfer, Jack Harper II, is preparing for a career as a greenskeeper and golf professional.

Coon Hunters To Be Hosts Monday

Lawrence County Coon and Fox Hunters' association will be hosts to officers and directors of the western division of the organization at eight o'clock Monday night in McBride Post, No. 522, F. V., in West Grant street. The division is composed of associations in nine counties.

Local members holding membership books are expected to be present and make a final report at the meeting as the campaign to procure new members comes to a close at the meeting.

Luncheon will be served.

Gerry Karver, Penn State's national outdoor mile champion, began his schoolboy career as a high jumper.

Briefs From Major Camps

(By International News Service)
The constantly changing plans of Leo Durocher, Brooklyn's manager, bring a fresh jolt to baseball fans daily.

Latest communique from the camp of the Daffy Dodgers, who have been shifted from one position to another with bewildering rapidity, is that Pete Reiser, one of their best outfielders, will be tried out at first base.

The idea seems to be that if the regular first baseman, Jackie Robinson, has to be shifted to second to replace the traded Eddie Stanky, Reiser may have to be used at first if Ray Sanders, obtained from the Braves in the Stanky deal, does not prove an adequate sub for Robinson.

Pistol Pete will be shipped to Brooklyn's other camp at Vero Beach, to get expert instruction on playing first base from George Sisler, who had no peers at that position in his heyday.

Carl Reynolds, Bill Bevens and Joe Page held Detroit to five hits and blanked the Tigers 5 to 0, for New York's third straight shutout.

The New York Giants at Phoenix opened a three-game exhibition series with the Chicago White Sox with a 9-6 victory.

The slump of the St. Louis Cardinals continued as the Red Birds dropped a 14 to 9 slugfest to the Boston Red Sox. Bobby Doerr of Boston whacked out five hits.

The Athletics nosed out Washington, 5 to 4, and Pittsburgh beat the Chicago Cubs, 6 to 5.

American Legion, Cally Club Tilt Monday Feature

One of the best cage battles of the year is scheduled for the Y.M.C.A. court Monday night when the American Legion five and the Calabra club quint lock horns.

The two Civic-Industrial loop powerhouses will struggle for the league lead. The Legion has won 6 and lost none in the second half, while the Cally record is 5-1.

The Cally passers will have to halt Ernie and Covelli, Legion mainstays, and will counter with such ace as "Rags" Gennock, Sammy Calazza, Red Ross, "Primo" Toscano, Cy Congini and others.

A packed gym is in prospect for the clash, which begins at 9 p. m.

Gus Little 5 Wins, 48 To 25

With Toscano and Conti showing the way, Gus' "Little Five" trounced the Safety Five of the House league last night at the "Y." 48-25. Conti caged 14 points, while Toscano accounted for 10.

Scaglione, with 11, was high man for the losers.

TRADING IS QUIET IN DAY'S MARKET

Modest Bidding Lifts Some Stocks Fractionally During Morning

NEW YORK, March 13.—(INS)—Modest bidding lifted stocks fractionally today. Trading remained quiet.

The soaring grain market monopolized traders' interest. The rapid runup in Chicago touched off strong demand for cotton here. Futures rallied more than $3 a bale.

Aircraft and movie stocks were among the most active stocks. Douglas, United Aircraft, Paramount, Loews and RKO all were up fractions near the close. Steels and motors held near last night's close. Rails were firm and oils had a steady undertone.

Coppers were mixed. Electric Power & Light was strong in utilities. Bond and curb stocks had a firm tone.

Hubby Alive But Officially Dead

LONDON.—(INS)—Mrs. E. Gooderham of Norwich, Eng. and the British War Office are in violent disagreement.

The war office insists that Mrs. Gooderham's husband is dead. Mrs. Gooderham insists that he is alive.

Ever since 1940 when Gooderham returned from Dunkirk after being reported missing, his wife has attempted unsuccessfully to convince the War Office that he did not cross the Styx.

Interrupted His Reading

Looking across the table at her husband recently, Mrs. Gooderham interrupted his paper reading to tell him:

"The still think you are dead."

She had just received a letter from the British War Graves Commission stating that her husband was buried in France.

LIGHT BULBS DROP IN PRICE DURING LAST TEN YEARS

PITTSBURGH, March 13.—(INS)—The cost of light bulbs has dropped 25 per cent during the last 10 years, Harold H. Green, head of market development for the General Electric lamp department, said at a planned lighting exposition in Pittsburgh.

The G. E. executive added, however, that despite the lower cost, the average store needs six times more light than it now uses, the average school requires as much as seven times more light, while the home and factory should have four times more light.

Infantile paralysis struck 2,181 Pennsylvanians, mostly children, in 1916, while in 1946 there were 341 affected. Last year, up to October 1, there were 317 cases reported in the state.

Unmarried women between 20 and 30 have three times as good a chance of marriage in the United States now as did women of the same ages in 1914, it has been estimated.

The oldest existing tax-supported public library in the United States is said to be the one at Petersburg, N. H., which dates from 1833.

DAIRY STABLES NEED PROPER VENTILATION

Proper ventilation in the dairy barn is good economy, since the herd soon will respond by giving more milk where it is provided.

Damp air, with walls and ceilings wet, are good evidence that better ventilation is needed. Where ventilation is not controlled, the stable temperature often goes to extremes, causing added discomfort for the cows.

A constant replacement of the heavy stable air with fresh, dry air is necessary for comfort. Two ventilating systems have given good results for dairymen. One is a natural draft, or gravity flue system where an insulated duct extends from the stable to above the roof peak.

Another system uses an electrically-operated fan and exhausts the air directly to the outside. With either system the flue or duct should extend downward to within 15 inches of the stable floor. Small inlets spaced properly around the walls will allow just the right amount of air to enter.

Further information on these two systems and on how to install them can be obtained from the Agricultural Extension Office, 206
Post Office Building, New Castle.

TABLE LINENS KEEP PACE WITH NEEDS

Clean, well-ironed, and attractive table linens are an asset to any meal. The size, kind of material, and color of table linens are largely determined by the family and its habits.

Materials for tablecloths may be linen, cotton, plastic, or oil cloth.
The chief charm of the cloth as the way it complements the dishes, glass, and silver used with it and the type of meal to be served. For example, a dinner party calls for different table linen and setting than is needed for a snack or everyday meals.

Plain cloths, either white or colored, set off decorated china, while patterned linens can best be used with plain china and glass.
It pays to have quality in table linens. Some manufacturers give quality specifications on labels or tags, so much of the guesswork is taken out of buying.

Tablecloths come in standard sizes, so if you know the size of your table it will be easy to select the size cloth for it. The cloth should have an overhang of 8 to 10 inches on all four sides.

It is well to examine the hem finish of ready-made tablecloths.
See that the hem is even and the material cut on a thread. If buying table linen by the yard, always see that the material is cut straight before hemming.
